Howard University Pulls Off Biggest Upset in College Football History

LAS VEGAS, NV - The Howard University Bison pulled off the greatest upset in college football history by edging out the University of Nevada-Las Vegas (UNLV) Rebels, 43-40, on Sept. 2 in Las Vegas.

No one gave Howard a chance to win the game, especially college football odds makers. According to reports, some sportsbooks gave Howard just a 600-to-1 chance of winning, and favored the Rebels by as many as 45.5 points—and for good reason.

Not only is UNLV an FBS, or Division I-A, team compared to Howard's lower-tiered FCS, or Division I-AA status, but Howard's football team has generally been awful over the last decade or two. They've recorded just two winning seasons in the past 20 years.

Things may be on the upswing for Howard with freshman quarterback Caylin Newton under center. Newton is a three-star recruit from Atlanta and the younger brother of NFL MVP quarterback Cam Newton. Caylin totaled more than 300 yards with three touchdowns in Howard's historic victory over UNLV.

Newton's 52-yard touchdown run gave Howard a 7-0 lead just minutes into the first quarter. He later tossed a short touchdown pass to Kyle Anthony to put Howard ahead, 14-6, in the second quarter, and also scored the game-winning touchdown on a four-yard run late in the fourth quarter. He finished with 190 yards rushing and 140 yards passing.

The win marked the first time Howard defeated a Division I-A opponent. It was also the first time in more than 10 years that Howard won a season-opening game, and the Bison win spoiled UNLV's celebration of the 50th anniversary of its football program.

The win was the first for new Howard head coach Mike London, who made his debut Saturday. London took over Howard's head coaching job this summer after serving as associate head coach for University of Maryland last year.

Trump Rescinding DACA Program Protecting Young Immigrants

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Donald Trump on Tuesday began dismantling the government program protecting hundreds of thousands of young immigrants who were brought into the country illegally as children. Attorney General Jeff Sessions declared the Obama administration's program "an unconstitutional exercise of authority" that must be revoked.

New applications will be halted for President Barack Obama's Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, or DACA, program, which has provided nearly 800,000 young immigrants a reprieve from deportation and the ability to work legally in the U.S. in the form of two-year, renewable work permits.

"I'm here today to announce that the program known as DACA that was effectuated under the Obama administration is being rescinded," Sessions announced.

But the administration is giving Congress six months to come up with a legislative fix — "should it choose to," Sessions said — before the government stops renewing permits for people already covered by the program.

DO YOU KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN "REAL" BLACK REPUBLICANS AND SELLOUTS?

By Raynard Jackson (NNPA Newswire Columnist)

One of my favorite movies of all-time is "Deep Cover," starring Laurence Fishburne. The movie debuted in 1992. Fishburne plays Russell Stevens Jr., an undercover Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) agent. During his initial interview with the DEA, Fishburne's character was asked: "So, Officer Stevens, tell me, do you know the difference between a Black man and a n—ger?"

Fishburne's reply was epic: "The n—ger's the one that would even answer that question."

Likewise, I have a similar question for Black Republicans: Do you know

RAPPIN' Tommy Wyatt DACA is the latest target of President Trump

President Donald Trump is determined to overthrow something, ANYTHING, that President Obama put in place during his terms in office. He first targeted the American Care Act (Obama Care) and gave the leadership of the Republican Party in both the House of Representatives and the Senate the job of repealing this program. When they could not get it done, that put a stop to his new health care plan. Although there were no particulars on the plan, Congress assured the president that they would get it done. However, they could not deliver on that promise. They have now put it on the back burner, but they have assured the president that they would get the job done at a later date.

The president then turned his attention to building the wall on the border of the U.S. and Mexico. The wall that he insisted Mexico would pay for. But, Mexico has stated that they do not have any intention of paying for the project. That project is now on hold.

Now the President has turned his attention on the DACA program, commonly called The Dreamer Act, that was put in place with an executive order from President Obama. This program is designed to protect children who were brought to America by their parents illegally. Many of them are now adults. The elimination of this program would strip them of their ability to live and work in the U.S. and set the stage for potential human rights abuses if they are deported to countries many do not even know. The president has now given congress six months to find a way to get rid of the program.

Many believe that the plan that congress should come up with is a plan that would help Dreamers achieve their goals of a path to citizenship. This is a position that most Americans agree with.

We are now wondering what is the next Obama program that Trump is ready to attack.
