

Madeleine Connor Challenges 353rd District Judge

by Tsoke (Chuch) Adjavon VILLAGER Columnist

(VILLAGER NEWS)

- At the last minute, Ms. Madeleine Connor decided to join and challenge state District Judge Tim Sulak. Among political consulting, it was a surprise that a longtime Judge in Travis County would receive a challenge. Despite Judge Sulak going into campaign mode, Ms. Connor defeated him and won.

Ms. Connor, deemed a vexatious litigant because she has sued the homeowner's association (HOA) numerous times. While the courts in Travis County have blacklisted Connor, many activists believe she is not qualified, and Democratic clubs have decided not to endorse her campaign.

Madeleine Connor

Officials within the Democratic Party are in shock that an incumbent judge Like Tim Sulak lost. Some wanted to draft an independent candidate to run against her. However, prominent lawyers have chosen not to run against her.

School Board Races

by Tsoke (Chuch) Adjavon VILLAGER Columnist

(VILLAGER NEWS)

- As the 2020 elections come to a close, most people are focusing on the Presidential elections. Yes, America will be at a crucial crossroad due to the fact another four years of Trump. There are numerous critical down-ballot races like school board races. Moreover, Anna Smith decided to run for the Leander School Board. According to Smith, "I would like to thank everyone who tuned in tonight for my first ever campaign kickoff event for Leander ISD School Board Trustee for Place 4. I am excited to start this journey and hope I can count on your vote in November."

Anna Smith

Anna Smith is running on the factor of School equity and the excellence of every student within the Leander School District. Moreover, she will face two opponents.

ONE QUESTION

Continued from page 1

you that facts matter.

Because of the "unpopular" protest and blackballing fiasco that followed, the NFL did not classify Kaepernick as a free agent following the 2016 season. They classified him as an "unsigned" free agent and later a "retired" player.

Since Kaepernick was not listed as a "free agent", he didn't fall under a "group licensing agreement" negotiated by the NFL Players Association. In turn, that meant EA Sports lacked the rights to use Kaepernick's likeness. Besides being excluded from the Madden Football franchise from 2018-20, EA Sports also cut out Kaepernick's name from their game's soundtrack in 2019.

So, imagine my surprise when I got home Tuesday evening, opened my Madden NFL 21 game and saw, plastered all over the intro screen, that Kaepernick was back in!

Not only is Kaepernick back in the game, but he's been given the highest rating of any free agent in it. Not to mention, they gave him his classic afro and special "Black

I'm Baaaack!

Colin Kaepernick is back in Madden NFL 21

Power" fist-in-the-air touchdown celebration. Furthermore, EA apologized for the "unfortunate mistake" caused by a "misunderstanding" of the rights situation to Kaepernick's absence in the game and audio track of years past.

You smell that? Yeah, me too!

I already told you about the stench coming from NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell in an earlier article. Here is a guy over the greatest sports enterprise in the world that claimed he didn't understand what Kaepernick's protest was about.

But just like Roger Goodell knew, EA Sports knows: When the champion is about to be dethroned, you bet on the challenger.

There was an interview, about three days after Madden 21 had released, from an NFL owner on the Black Lives Matter initiative. Jim Irsay is the owner of the Indianapolis Colts. He's 61 years old. Irsay said the phrase "all lives matter" misses the point. "OF COURSE all lives matter, but the phrase "BLACK LIVES MATTER" is about unequal treatment faced by BLACK Americans. It does not say or imply that ONLY black lives matter", Irsay tweeted on August 31.

One question, Mr. Irsay, Mr. Goodell, EA Sports?

Where was this knowledge in 2016? How come Colin Kaepernick couldn't relate this to you peacefully but after 5,000 businesses burn to the ground you hear what he was trying to say?

Let's cut the b.s., shall we?

-Now that these entities can no longer turn on a television, phone, or streaming app without seeing LeBron James and the entire

NBA kneeling; -Now that these entities can no longer turn on a television, phone, or streaming app without seeing Matt Dumba and other outstanding National Hockey League players kneeling;

-Now that these entities can no longer turn on a television, phone, or streaming app without seeing world renowned athletes of various sports, nations, and nationalities kneeling; they have no other option but to look one way: Our Way!

When you have an initiative, combined with creativity, focused on a remonstrations, and broadcasted across a platform of inescapable consciousness, you not only promote change; you force it.

You demand it! These changings of the minds are coming across political lines, social lines, justice enforcers/reformers, financial institutions, business industries, and yes...computer game developers and publishers. Never underestimate the power of collective, peaceful dissent in the face of consolidated, obstinate aggression.

What's up, Kap?!

AUSTINTEXAS.GOV/LEAVENOTRACE

HOW TO LEAVE NO TRACE: LEAVE WHAT YOU FIND

When exploring the outdoors, leave the natural environment as you find it and preserve the outdoor experience for everyone.

Learn more ways to #LeaveNoTrace and protect Austin's natural spaces at austintexas.gov/leavenotrace.

#CarverMuseumATX PLANNING PROCESS

Join us on this journey

Second Virtual Community Meeting

Date: October 3rd, 2020
Time: 1-3 pm

Share your voice and find out more: austintexas.gov/CarverATXplanning

